

Customer Complaints Policy

Toyota Finance works hard to try to ensure you always get the best service from us. If there's something about our products or services that you aren't happy with, then let's work together to see if we can resolve it quickly.

Our complaints policy aims to ensure that all matters are dealt with seriously, respectfully and are treated in total confidence.

Principles of this complaints policy

These principles apply to Toyota Finance, our employees and representatives when responding to customer complaints in Australia.

(a) Visibility

Our complaints procedures are readily available to customers via the Toyota Finance website, Credit Guide and Complaints brochure.

(b) Accessibility

We make complaint submission easy by ensuring the process is simple and accessible via mail, email and telephone and ensuring support (if required) is available for complainants from non-English speaking backgrounds.

(c) Responsiveness

Toyota Finance representatives must acknowledge and respond to complaints received as soon as practical and within the timeframes set out by this policy and relevant regulation.

(d) Objectivity

Our employees and representatives must avoid any bias in dealing with the complainant, the person complained against or the organisation. We will make enquiries to find relevant facts from parties on both sides of the complaint and verify explanations (whenever possible); and act to avoid any conflict of interest.

(e) Accountability

Toyota Finance has an effective system for recording and responding to complaints, which are reviewed monthly.

(f) Charges

Toyota Finance will not charge customers a fee for raising a complaint.

(g) Confidentiality

Our employees and representatives will not disclose personally identifiable information unless it is needed for the purpose of addressing the complaint; and the complainant has provided consent.

(h) Customer Focused Approach

Toyota Finance employees and representatives are focused on our customers by being helpful, friendly, and communicating in plain language; demonstrating a commitment to resolve the complaint as honestly, fairly, and efficiently as possible.

(i) Continuous Improvement

In the interest of improving our customer experience, we are committed to an annual review of our complaints handling policies and procedures.

(j) External Dispute Resolution

If you are unhappy with our process or response, you may wish to lodge the complaint with the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA). All disputes raised through AFCA are managed in accordance with this complaints policy and relevant government regulations.

If you need additional assistance with your complaint

We understand that our customers come from diverse backgrounds. Some may find it difficult to discuss their accounts with us in English, in writing or over the phone.

Our Customer Service Representatives can support you by:

1. Accepting the customers verbal consent to speak with a third-party (valid for the current call only).
2. Discussing the account with the customers previously appointed representative.
3. Obtaining further support from either:
 - a. The National Relay Service (NRS) for hearing impaired customers; or
 - b. Translation and Interpreting Service (TIS National) for customers who do not speak English well, or when English is not their first language.

Ensuring quality in our complaints policy

Toyota Finance is committed to the quality of our complaints policy, procedures, employees, and representatives. All aspects are reviewed annually by the Customer Resolution Manager for the identification of systemic or recurring problems. In accordance with the principles of this policy, if problems are identified, we will act to resolve them.

Where appropriate, issues that arise out of our complaints handling process may be incorporated in the processes for monitoring and evaluating employee and representative performance.
